ARTEFACTS IN ARTEFACT CLASS / ITEM ORDER

Headings explained

Cat No	Catalogue accession number for an artefact or group of similar items. This list is sorted numerically by Catalogue Number.
FS	Field sorting number – this is primarily for interim artefact processing and data management but is retained for some artefacts as the main identification.
Unit	The stratigraphic archaeological unit from which the artefact was obtained.
North / East	The paired Easting and Northing coordinates were used to designate an excavation area. Generally this was a 2 x 2 metre square, with the Easting and Northing of the southwest corner being used.
CLASS	Fabric class or material of the artefact.
WNAME	Name of the object – even if fragment only found.
COLOUR	Any original or applied colour, eg for decorations
BOX	Box refers to the final storage. Note 'X' and 'EM' prefix boxes have been removed from the permanent collection.

These headings are a subset of the most commonly sought information from the OM7 Artefact Database. Please refer to the Database for more complex enquiries.

Headings explained

Cat No	Catalogue accession number for an artefact or group of similar items. This list is sorted numerically by Catalogue Number.
FS	Field sorting number – this is primarily for interim artefact processing and data management but is retained for some artefacts as the main identification.
Unit	The stratigraphic archaeological unit from which the artefact was obtained.
North / East	The paired Easting and Northing coordinates were used to designate an excavation area. Generally this was a 2 x 2 metre square, with the Easting and Northing of the southwest corner being used.
CLASS	Fabric class or material of the artefact.
WNAME	Name of the object – even if fragment only found.
COLOUR	Any original or applied colour, eg for decorations
BOX	Box refers to the final storage. Note 'X' and 'EM' prefix boxes have been removed from the permanent collection. The table is ordered using this field.

These headings are a subset of the most commonly sought information from the OM7 Artefact Database. Please refer to the Database for more complex enquiries.

Headings explained

Cat No	Catalogue accession number for an artefact or group of similar items. This list is sorted numerically by Catalogue Number.
FS	Field sorting number – this is primarily for interim artefact processing and data management but is retained for some artefacts as the main identification.
Unit	The stratigraphic archaeological unit from which the artefact was obtained.
North / East	The paired Easting and Northing coordinates were used to designate an excavation area. Generally this was a 2 x 2 metre square, with the Easting and Northing of the southwest corner being used.
CLASS	Fabric class or material of the artefact.
WNAME	Name of the object – even if fragment only found.
COLOUR	Any original or applied colour, eg for decorations
BOX	Box refers to the final storage. Note 'X' and 'EM' prefix boxes have been removed from the permanent collection.

These headings are a subset of the most commonly sought information from the OM7 Artefact Database. Please refer to the Database for more complex enquiries.

Headings explained

Cat No	Catalogue accession number for an artefact or group of similar items. This list is sorted numerically by Catalogue Number.
FS	Field sorting number – this is primarily for interim artefact processing and data management but is retained for some artefacts as the main identification.
Unit	The stratigraphic archaeological unit from which the artefact was obtained. Artefacts in this table are ordered by Unit number.
North / East	The paired Easting and Northing coordinates were used to designate an excavation area. Generally this was a 2 x 2 metre square, with the Easting and Northing of the southwest corner being used.
CLASS	Fabric class or material of the artefact.
WNAME	Name of the object – even if fragment only found.
COLOUR	Any original or applied colour, eg for decorations
BOX	Box refers to the final storage. Note 'X' and 'EM' prefix boxes have been removed from the permanent collection.

These headings are a subset of the most commonly sought information from the OM7 Artefact Database. Please refer to the Database for more complex enquiries.
