Confirmation of Minutes

The minutes of the previous meeting were confirmed out of session and should be available on the Quarry website.

Presentation by Holcim

Kurt and David presented an update on the activities of the quarry for 2022.

Overall, the quarry performed well in 2022 with tonnage slightly less than 2021. Total yield will be in the order of 700, to 800,000 tonnes. About 10% less than the previous year. Covid and the weather are factors. The quarry is expected to return to past levels in 2023.

Major projects were reported on including work at the new Jumping Creek development and the Googong and Jerrabomberra extensions. Cost of fuel is now a substantial factor in bidding for new work.

There have been no reportable safety incidents.

The terms of the facility, the crushers continue to be subject to regular maintenance and the new maintenance shed is expected to be complete in early 2023.

Monitoring Results

DM noted that there had been no exceedances of any monitoring stations for dust and noise as monitored by the independent contractor. There was one exceedance for water due to the heavy rain. No contaminants were detected.

Complaints

DM noted that there had been two complaints from the community about blasting. DM called both complainants and offered to place monitoring equipment on each. Neither member of the community accepted the offer and Holcim will continue to do its best to minimise disruption caused by blasting.

Issues Raised by Community Members

MZ asked if the company was interested in a community open day as had been offered some years previously. KB was very happy to consider such an initiative and the meeting asked the representatives of Googong and Jerrabomberra to consult their members to ascertain what they would like to see at an open day, including a guided tour of the site and reporting on environmental monitoring.

Next Meeting

21 March 2023, 2022, is an indicative date for the next meeting of the CCC

The chair is to follow up QPRC representation before the next meeting.
