Progress at the quarry
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • In process of constructing new wash plant, commissioning planned for the week of 14th July. This is a key focus at the moment. • Production has continued within the approved extraction limits and truck movement restrictions • Severely impacted by Cyclone Alfred, with a temporary site closure as a result – works are ongoing with a number of trees damaged • Hiring for new operator as replacement for resignation
Site Inspections
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • NSW Resources Regulator audit completed 26th Feb • Some minor non-compliances around paperwork, test and tags, design registration of pressure vessels, and a few other small items • Contacted by DPIE regarding a potential upcoming site visit, date unknown • NSW Resources Regulator likely to complete unannounced visit to the quarry within next 6 months
Compliance with Development Approval
	<ul style="list-style-type: none"> • Annual return submitted to EPA

- Compliance issue reported to DPIE and EPA regarding missing dust samples as a result of winds causing damage to sample bottles

Monitoring results / reviews

- Trending above max. annual average for the Windmill dust gauge due to high results in February and April, however the results showed that this was 90% combustible matter so likely the result of nearby farming activities as sand is not combustible.

Measured deposited dust – February 2025

- Insoluble solids (g/m²/month): 12
- Ash content (g/m²/month): 0.6
- Combustible matter (g/m²/month): 11

Measured deposited dust – April 2025

- Insoluble solids (g/m²/month): 12
- Ash content (g/m²/month): 0.9
- Combustible matter (g/m²/month): 11

Truck movements well within 24 truck movements per hour (in and out)

- Averaging approx. 19 trucks total per day

Noise - non-detectable;

Blue/Green algae – well below criteria;

Surface water monitoring – heavy metals all under the criteria

Community Complaints and Responses to complaints

- No complaints have been received about the quarry operations.

Community Engagement

- Holcim is organizing a tree planting volunteer day at Teven (west of Ballina)

Recent local request for assistance for the local choir was not successful due to it not meeting requirements (support is often provided in the focus areas of education, health, technical support and services, sustainable communities, driver training, environmental programs, shelter infrastructure etc).

- Open to opportunities for similar opportunities in the region
- Holcim guidelines regarding donations and sponsorship
